High School Boy Is Held in Chicago As Woman's Slayer

'Very Good Boy' Seized for Questioning in Attack on Another Woman

Chicago, Oct. 2 (AP)—A 15-year-old Vocational High School boy, described by his parents as a "very good boy," was held in jail today after police said he admitted the slaying of a woman in an attempted robbery September 24.

Police Capt. Patrick Collins said the 15-year-old boy, James Hartmann, 25, admitted he slashed and robbed a young woman in the same south side district in which the slaying occurred.

He had been seized for questioning in the slaying Tuesday night on Mrs. Mary Clausen, 25, mother of two small children. After she identified Hartmann last night, two of her brothers grabbed and beat him before police separated them.

Collins said after young Hartmann finished a statement relating to the attack on Mrs. Clausen, he was questioned about the slaying of Mrs. Gracey Bush, 32, wife of a minister, in a busy south side parking lot.

"Yes, I killed her," Collins quoted Hartmann as saying. "I didn't mean to kill her. I didn't know the knife was open. She came toward me and screamed. I hit her. Then she fell. I ran away."

Pushed Knife Through Door Collins said the youth related that as Mrs. Bush was about to enter her new car, he pushed a knife through the door.

"I told her to stick up," Collins said Hartmann told him. "She started toward me and it was then I stabbed her."

Fleeing from the parking lot near the intersection of 63rd and Third streets, Collins said the youth stopped at a drug store and bought some adhesive tape to bandage the knuckle of a finger on his left hand which he cut. Then he went to a neighborhood theatre and saw three movies. Collins said the youth learned about Mrs. Bush's death when he left the movie about four hours later.

Police said Hartmann identified a pearl-handled knife, with a four-inch blade, one of the two knives found in his second floor, fourth and a half room south side apartment, as the one with which he killed Mrs. Bush. No formal charge was placed against the youth immediately.

Collins said the boy's stepfather, Le Roy Hartmann, 43, a bartender, and his mother, Kathleen, 31, told him the youth was a "very good boy" at school and at home. They said he did not stay out late at night, was obedient and was "always kind to his two younger sisters."

Police said young Hartmann, after being in custody last January for three-purse thefts and a burglary, was placed on probation. He entered the vocational school September 2.

Mrs. Bush was the wife of the Rev. Francis F. Bush, pastor of a Seventh Day Adventist Church and the mother of an adopted two year old son.

Hatten Is Chosen For Dodger Role

Brooklyn Boys Go Home for Third Game in World Series

BY JACK HAND

Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Oct. 2 (AP)—Lefty Joe Hatten, a brilliant but wild sophomore who has specialized in beating second division clubs, was Manager Burt Shotton's Brooklyn choice to oppose Bobo Newsom of the New York Yankees today as the subway World Series shifted to Ebbets Field with the Dodgers trailing two games to none.

Shotton said he planned to start the same lineup that was humbled by the Yankees yesterday, 10-3, in the Yankee Stadium, quieting reports that he might send Carl Furillo to center field and shift Pete Reiser to left. Reiser had trouble with several fly balls in the second game and has played left on occasions this season.

Shotton said he planned to start the same lineup that was humbled by the Yankees yesterday, 10-3, in the Yankee Stadium, quieting reports that he might send Carl Furillo to center field and shift Pete Reiser to left. Reiser had trouble with several fly balls in the second game and has played left on occasions this season.

With the right-hander Newsom going for the Yankees, Shotton said, "I have heard that some stories have been written about me making a lineup change. I haven't read them but there is nothing to it. I definitely do not plan any changes."

Manager Bucky Harris of the Yankees announced he was making a change in his batting order, sending Sherm Lollar, a recruit from Newark, to do the catching in place of Larry Berra. Berra failed to hit southpaw Lombardi yesterday and was guilty of several fielding lapses.

First Inning Yankees
Hatten's first pitch to Stirnweis was right through the middle for a called strike.
Stirnweis lined a two and one pitch against the right field wall close to the foul line, but some fast fielding by Walker held the blow to a single.

Hornich swung at a three and two pitch and smacked into a double play, Reese to Stanky to Robinson.

Horan, De Nike Speak at Sessions Dale Swartzmiller Tells Opportunities

Each dollar spent by tourists is new money and therefore benefits everyone in the community directly or indirectly, Joseph J. Horan of the State Department of Commerce told an overflow audience last night at the closing session of the Crafts and Small Business Clinic at the Hotel Governor Clinton.

Discussing the benefits of tourist trade, Horan advised persons interested in resort or restaurant business to play up one feature which would attract trade—whether it be a special dish or a beautiful view.

Horan, head of the Travel Promotion unit of the Commerce Department, was one of several speakers who addressed the all-day clinic which was attended by approximately 500 persons from seven counties in the Mid-Hudson area. The program was handled by women and addressed to women, but men were also in the audience.

The clinic, which gave local women an opportunity to display and compare their homemade products, and obtain inspiration and advice from each other and from experts, was hailed as a great success.

Usual 'Off-Year' Decline Seen for Registration

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Registration for the November 4 elections begins tomorrow in most of the state and political observers predict the usual "off-year" decline.

The total in 1946, when Governor Dewey was reelected, was 6,008,837.

No statewide office will be filled in the coming election. The only statewide vote will be on six proposed constitutional amendments and three public housing finance propositions. The proposed amendments include one to authorize a $400,000,000 veterans' bonus, through a new $135,000,000 bond issue.

Personal registration days for residents of upstate cities and villages of 5,000 population or more are tomorrow and Saturday and Friday and Saturday of next week, October 10-11.

Personal registration in New York city and throughout Westchester county opens next Monday and continues through Saturday, October 11.

In rural areas, where only new voters are required to register personally, the registration days are this Saturday and next Saturday.

Citizens must be registered to be eligible to vote.

Much interest hangs on the election of county boards of supervisors

Business Men Ask Hearing on Property Needed for Project

Water Pistol Almost Causes Auto Crash

Local police are still finding that boy plus water pistol is still a local menace despite a raid during the North Front street celebration which netted six of these squirters last week.

One of the pistols in the hands of a local boy Wednesday night, almost caused an accident, according to the police. The report said that Harriett Blakeslee, 11 Wurts street complained that a boy squirted water in his eyes as he was driving up Broadway near East Chester street. The incident he said almost caused him to lose control of his auto.

Informal Parley Is Sought With Public Works Assistant

A move to meet possible early acquisition by the State of central Broadway properties needed for the crossing elimination was taken at a meeting of the Central Business Men's Association in the Old Capital Motors building Wednesday night.

A letter will be mailed today by the organization requesting an informal hearing and discussion of the project by a representative of the right-of-way division of the State Public Works Department.

The business men learned that the representative is scheduled to confer with one property owner in the near future, and the letter requests his consideration of the proposal that he discuss the project informally with others whose properties will be affected.

Buildings in the area, in compliance with state regulations, will be razed or demolished in whole or part and temporary easements will be acquired for the purpose.

Orders Are Issued

Property owners will be paid for the buildings, the land will be returned when the new street level is completed and each owner will be given opportunity to rebuild or renovate in accordance with the new street level.

Members of the association learned that the State has been revising valuations in compliance with current trends, a point which was believed generally to be in favor of those whose properties are in the area to be affected.

No. 1 on State List

The project, which calls for elimination of the crossing by depressing the street under the tracks, has been listed as No. 1 on the State crossing-elimination program.

Notice that a representative of the right-of-way branch of the Public Works Department, expects to confer with at least one property owner here "in the near future," indicates some definite action toward a start of the project.

Plans for Christmas lighting in the central Broadway sector and for some special observance of the holiday, were also discussed at the session.

Argues With Trooper, Pays $10 Fine in Court

It cost Thomas Joseph Currie, 24, Highland fruit grower, $10 to learn that it pays to listen when a State Trooper is talking—especially when he's talking to somebody else.

Currie was fined by Justice Albert Lester, Tuesday, on a disorderly conduct charge by Trooper Dakin.

The Highland man was haled into court for allegedly arguing with the trooper who was checking the driving license of his employee.

Incidentally, the driver, who kept quiet, was not arrested.

Boss Tells Patrolmen To Pick Up 'Pistols'

Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss today issued orders to all patrolmen to arrest all boys in the city who are considered a public menace with water pistols.

The order followed complaints that some youngsters have been squirting ink and chemical solutions of obnoxious odor in the streets, and that in at least one instance, water from a squitter had nearly caused an accident.

Self-Rationing Drive To Save Food Is Put Into High Gear in U.S.

Anglo Crisis Has Hit Ertel Plant Eight Workers Are Laid Off, Ertel Tells U. S. Chamber

The Ertel Engineering Corporation of Kingston today notified the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the Ulster County Metal Trades Council (A.F.L.) that because of the dollar shortage abroad business had been cut sharply and eight workers had been laid off.

The Ertel plant manufactures high-quality filter machines and officials estimated that one-half of its business is done through export.

George Yerry, president of the Council, said he would contact President William Green of the A.F.L. and ask him to bring the problem up when the union convenes in San Francisco in a few days.

"This problem is affecting a number of firms in the Hudson Valley as well as the Ertel company," Yerry said. "It is affecting companies all over the United States. We of course are interested in keeping our men employed."

"President Green will bring the matter up in San Francisco to see whether the A.F.L. will have any influence in adjusting matters of this kind so those firms who have been engaged in exporting goods to England can continue to export them and keep our people employed."

Fred J. K. Ertel, president of the Ertel Company, said his London representative was now in Kingston "anxious to place an order of at least 25,000 pieces ($100,000) but unable to do so because the British government would not authorize the use of scarce dollars."

"There must be some way the world can get together," Ertel said. "I am not in favor of another loan to Britain, but if that is the policy of our government I believe it should be given in the form of credits to be granted only on the purchase of goods from American manufacturers."

Yerry said the three-and-a-half-billion dollar American loan to Britain had been largely used up, much of it to pay debts previously incurred. Commitments had been made by Britain to other countries to pay debts in dollars when they were available; Yerry said he had learned.

35 Acres Are To Be Sold, Port Ewen

Former Vanderveer Orchard at Cemetery; Elmendorf, Miller Lands Opened

Comprises 100 Acre

Total Area of Tracts Is Approximately 100 Acres

Plans for two major real estate developments, one at Port Ewen and the other two at Old Hurley, were disclosed today.

An estimated 35-acre tract in Port Ewen is expected to be converted into building lots following completion of a transfer of title to a tract opposite the cemetery. Development of the acreage near Old Hurley has been started.

Negotiations were reported under way between Arnold Bellini, 23 Purvis street, this city, Nicholas Schwartz, 42 Abel street, Charles Epstein and another party in Port Ewen for transfer of the title there.

The property, formerly the Vanderveer orchard has been farmed by Mr. Bellini for some time. He said this morning that details of the transaction are expected to be completed soon.

The land is to be transferred to the new owners for the purpose of subdivision into building lots, according to information obtained today. The scale of the subdivision was not disclosed.

The Port Ewen property which extends in a southwesterly direction from Route 9W is considered an ideal location for building lots and is at present easily accessible.

Work has been started, meanwhile, on the building of a road over a sizeable tract owned by Ray Elmendorf near Old Hurley and it is expected that the land there will be subdivided into building lots.

A survey of the property has been started; it was learned today, with a view to later development of the property which is below the present Elmendorf orchard along the main road.

Estimates as to the number of lots the two tracts will make available, could not be obtained today, but it is understood that they will provide for upwards of 100 lots.

Hiller Opens Tracts

Similar plans for development of two other tracts near Old Hurley were announced today by Arnold Hiller there.

Mr. Hiller said that the land, one tract of about 20 acres and the other of from 30 to 40 acres will be developed by his brother, Ralph Hiller for building lot purposes.

Some work has been done on the land to date, it was reported, but full-scale development is not expected to start until later.

One tract extends toward the Lucas avenue turnpike and the other is on a hill near the village. The properties have not been subdivided to date, but some land has been sold, and a well development is in progress on one tract.

Birthday Labors

New Delhi, Oct. 2 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi today devoted his 75th birthday to prayer, fasting and labors for cessation of the communal strife which has been seething throughout this sub-continent since freedom from British rule was attained with the help of his guidance. Although still ill from influenza and coughing badly, Gandhi was out of bed at 3:30 a. m., when he conducted the usual prayer meeting for staff employees and other household associates. By 4:15 a. m. he was squatted on the floor hard at work before a 14-inch high desk.

Broadcast Says

Jews Are Surrounded

Jerusalem, Oct. 2 (AP)—A broadcast purporting to emanate from one of two ships headed for Palestine with several thousand visaless Jewish immigrants said today they were "surrounded by a cluster of British vessels preparing to attack."

The broadcaster asserted that he was speaking from the "Geula" (Redemption), the name given by the Jews to the refugee ship Northland, which passed through the Dardanelles Sunday. She is accompanied by the Paducah, renamed by the Jews the "Medina Yehudit" (Jewish State). Together the two ships are carrying about 3,500 Jews embarked at a Bulgarian port.

Health for All

APPENDICITIS

There is no home remedy for appendicitis. If everyone would learn that sentence by heart there would be few, if any, deaths from this disease. The danger of the use of home treatment or patent medicine in any case of acute stomachache cannot be over-emphasized.

The appendix is a sausage-shaped organ about four inches long located on the right side of the lower abdomen and attached to the beginning of the large intestine. It is probably of no use to civilized man, but can cause him great pain if it becomes infected. Infection may result when the appendix is blocked by a collection of matter from the intestine, or it may come from any infection in the body, such as one of the nose or throat.

The pain of appendicitis is not always first noticed in the area where the appendix is located and consequently the patient is apt to mistake it for an ordinary stomachache. In any case where sudden pain in the abdomen is accompanied by moderate fever, nausea and tenderness in the appendix region, appendicitis should be suspected. The doctor should be called at once.

Until the doctor comes, the patient should be put to bed and made to lie quietly. Never rub the stomach or apply hot water bottles. The patient should be given nothing to eat or drink, not even water, and no medicine of any kind. Above all he should not be given a laxative. Any medication adds greatly to the danger of death.

If the doctor finds from his examination that the case is one of acute appendicitis, he will usually advise an operation to remove the appendix immediately. Any delay may result in perforation or gangrene of the appendix and cause peritonitis which may be fatal. With early diagnosis and immediate operation, the outlook is excellent. There is no reason to be alarmed about an appendectomy, as it is one of the most commonly performed operations and, if done in time, is usually successful.

In the next article, how the family can help the TB patient will be discussed.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The United Nations is essaying a tough role in playing Solomon for adjudication of the Jewish-Arab controversy over Palestine. Its decision, no matter what it may be, must be backed by protective armed force if further bloodshed is to be prevented in the Holy Land—and the U.N. hasn't any armed force as yet.

That tragic fact becomes increasingly clear as the U.N. cautiously maneuvers through hearings on the highly controversial report of the special committee on Palestine which recommends that the country be divided into two separate states, one Arab and the other Jewish. The indication is that the Jews would accept this as a minimum requirement. The Arabs, however, insist there must be only one state, and that one Arab. In support of this claim they advance the argument that they outnumber the Jews about two to one. They have the backing of neighboring Arab states.

Both sides have made it uncomforably clear that they are prepared to defend their claims with arms. If we were dealing with some other situations we might take such declarations as bluff.

But neither the Arabs nor the Jews are bluffing when they say they'll fight. We have proof of their determination in the innumerable outbreaks of racial strife in Palestine during the last quarter century.

So again there's blood on the moon over the Holy Land. And the situation has been rendered more tense as the result of last night's broadcast appeal by Irgun Zvai Leumi (the Jewish underground organization) to all Palestine Jews to convene a constitutional assembly and form a provisional government for the whole country.

"If we must wage war and shed our blood," demanded the appeal, "why do it for a partitioned Palestine and not the whole of it?"

Irgun openly stated that it was resuming its campaign of violence against the British occupation—a warfare which has resulted in much bloodshed and destruction. The British, of course, have an estimated 10,000 troops in Palestine at the moment, but London has announced definitely that it believes its mandate over Palestine should be terminated, and that its troops will be withdrawn if the U.N. assembly doesn't arrive at a solution satisfactory to both Jews and Arabs. The British declare that they "are not themselves prepared to undertake the task of imposing a policy in Palestine by force of arms."

The position thus is that the United Nations must arrive at some definite decision, because the British won't carry on otherwise. And the decision must be backed by sufficient force to maintain peace until establishment of the new regime, or regimes, in Palestine.

It's a dangerous problem, especially since the U.N. has been rendered all but impotent by the watched fight between the Russian bloc and the democracies. It is doubly dangerous because Palestine is strategically situated, not only militarily but in its relations to vast oil regions—and the great powers are vitally interested. It is trebly dangerous in that a conflict involving the Palestine Arabs might draw in surrounding Moslem states—as has been threatened—and eventually involve many countries in the terrors of a holy war.

You'd think this rowdy world of ours would have its belly full of war, but apparently it hasn't had enough yet.

No Confirmation Found
Frankfurt, Oct. 2 (AP)—U. S. Army officials said today they had found no confirmation of recent German rumors that 6,000 armed Ukrainian guerrillas were approaching the eastern border of American-occupied Germany. "The situation along the border is entirely quiet as far as we can ascertain," said a spokesman for the U. S. constabulary which patrols the border.

Radio Age
The first play-by-play broadcast of a football game was more than a quarter of a century ago, October 3, 1921, when Pittsburgh defeated West Virginia 21-13. Broadcast was made over Westinghouse station KDKA.

Blind Faith
Topper, a six-year-old wire-haired terrier, whose owners flew him from Detroit to Washington for an operation to restore his sight, sits unflinchingly at the Abbey Hospital for Animals in Washington after a cataract was removed from his right eye. Similar surgery will be performed on his other eye. He's owned by John C. Bronning, of Detroit.

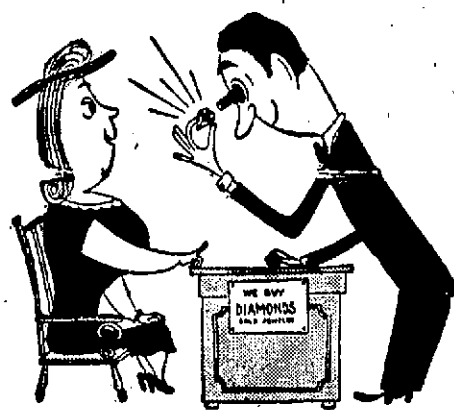

Push Stepped-Up Dry Campaign

Some words fool you:

DIAMOND means

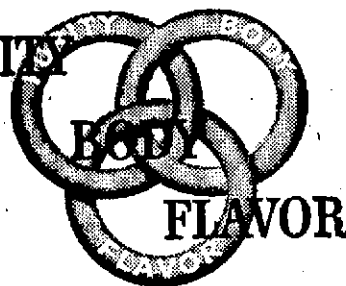

DIAMOND means

... but BALLANTINE

always means: PURITY

There's the diamond you pay on... the diamond you play on. Clearly, diamond is one of those confusing words with more than one meaning. It can fool you.

But not Ballantine! Ballantine always means PURITY, BODY, FLAVOR... the qualities symbolized by Peter Ballantine's famous 3-ring trade mark. Look for the 3 rings; call for Ballantine.

Rabbi Bloom Urges Pleas to President On Palestine Case

Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, chairman of the Kingston Emergency Committee for Palestine, today urged persons throughout Ulster County to write and telegraph President Truman or Secretary of State George C. Marshall in support of the partition of Palestine into Jewish and Arab states.

Rabbi Bloom said in an interview that his group hoped for public support in impressing upon the State Department the urgency of a stand in favor of the majority report of the U.N. Committee on Palestine. The majority report favored partition.

"Our country traditionally, from the days of Wilson, has been very affirmative in its approval of a Jewish national home in Palestine," Bloom said. "Both Jews and non-Jews who, favor this point of view feel that Secretary of State Marshall must be more vigorous, more outspoken in the matter."

Deliberation on the Palestine Committee's reports is now in progress, and "for this reason there is no time to be lost," Rabbi Bloom said.

"We are making every effort to urge individuals and groups in Ulster County, as in the country as a whole, to send telegrams and letters to the President, to Marshall and to the headquarters of the U.S. delegation at the U.N.,

2 Park Ave., New York City." Rabbi Bloom said he believed the recent British statement on Palestine was "equivocal and in line with traditional British colonial policy of muddling through."

Partition of Palestine would do "no disservice to the Arabs," Bloom said. He added that although there would be tension in the transitional period, "if under U.N. supervision both Jews and Arabs are let alone to settle their own problems, economic and other practical considerations will eliminate artificial tensions caused by the British and other outside interference."

"The Jews and the Arabs can get along," he said, adding that it was only the wealthy Arabs who predicted bloodshed if partition should occur. "The Arab masses have and will get along with the Jewish rank and file, unless whipped into fury by the bogey of Jewish usurpation."

Rabbi Bloom said not a single Arab had been displaced by the Jewish immigration, and added that Arab immigration into Palestine had actually increased greatly since the Jewish influx "because it is the only place they can find a decent standard of living."

Audit Bureau of Circulation Will Meet in Chicago

A.B.C. Reports Give Facts Essential for Sound Advertising

The representatives of 3,000 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies, members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, with which The Freeman is affiliated, will hold their 33rd annual meeting in Chicago, October 16-17.

Operating for a third of a century as the outstanding example of successful cooperation between buyers and sellers in an industry, the Bureau's work reflects the benefits of self-regulation and free enterprise in business. Previous to 1914, the year the Audit Bureau was established, advertising was pretty much of a gamble. When merchants and manufacturers bought advertising space in those days there were no standards for measuring the circulations of newspapers and periodicals and no uniform method for auditing and reporting these circulations. Then, in 1914, a group of publishers, publishers and advertising agencies organized the Audit Bureau, establishing standards for circulation values and the means for verification. With the advent of the Audit Bureau, advertising was transformed from a field of speculation to one of investment in known values and it became possible, for the first time, for advertisers to buy space with the assurance that they would get what they paid for instead of spending their money on a lot of guess work and unverified claims.

The Audit Bureau, better known as A.B.C., maintains a large staff of experienced circulation auditors who examine and audit the circulation records of all publishers members at regular intervals. The results of these audits are issued in A.B.C. reports which are available to advertisers and advertising agencies for use in buying advertising space. These reports tell how much net paid circulation is obtained, how it is obtained, the price or prices at which it was sold, how and where distributed and many other facts essential to the sound investment of advertising money. Thus, with the aid of A.B.C. reports, advertisers can select the media best adapted to their needs, invest their money on the basis of verified information and know just what they get for their advertising dollars.

Today 95 per cent of the total circulation of all daily newspapers in the United States and 98 per cent in Canada is audited by A.B.C. Many weekly newspapers have joined the Bureau in recent years and the movement of verified circulation in the weekly field is growing rapidly. In addition to newspapers the Bureau's publisher membership includes most of the leading magazines, business papers and farm publications in the United States and Canada.

Without the protection made possible by the use of A.B.C. reports it is probable that advertisers would not have invested the large sums in advertising that now characterize our economy. The Audit Bureau therefore, by its participation in the development of American business, is an integral part in the public service performed by the newspapers of America.

Cholera Toll Is 161, Helath Ministry Says

Cairo, Oct. 2 (AP)—Egypt's cholera death toll mounted to 161 today as the health ministry listed 58 new fatalities from the dread disease.

The ministry said 114 new cases and 87 suspected cases had been reported yesterday. Because of the epidemic, now a little more than a week old, the government banned a one-day general strike which Muslim organizations had called for Friday to protest partitioning of Palestine as proposed by the United Nations Special Committee.

Forrestal Declares Marxian Thesis 'Pure Nonsense'

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Secretary of Defense last night termed "pure nonsense" the Marxian thesis that "the form of private ownership we know as business capitalism is provocative of war."

Secretary James Forrestal did not refer directly to the recent "war-mongering" charges made by Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Russian U.N. delegate, in addressing the Army Ordnance Association. But he told the 1,500 business men at the dinner: "Because this thesis has been reasserted during the past three weeks, I should like to examine it."

"This theory, as an interpretation of history, which pretends to be, has no validity," the new defense chief said. "Men of the jungles threw rocks at each other long before there were either industrialists or business managers."

"American business does not want war and neither does American labor. American business has supported its government, as has American labor, in wars which were forced upon us by the madness and fanaticism of totalitarian leaders."

Forrestal said American industry has spent more than 20 billion dollars in the past 20 months on capital expansion, an investment that a war would impair.

"There is not a man in this audience who is not desperately anxious to see the world embark on a century of peace and of reconstruction and repair of the terrible physical and spiritual damage which mankind suffered in the six years of war," the secretary said.

"But I also believe that no one in this audience will differ with this statement: Until all nations are willing to accept the principle of the rule of law rather than the rule of force it would be as foolish to risk unilateral disarmament as it would be to abolish fire departments in the hope of ending all fires."

Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of Strategic Air Forces, told the ordinance men that virtually all materiel of World War 2 would be outmoded if another war broke out. He suggested that makers of airplane propellers learn a new trade in such an event since "we probably won't use them on our new combat aircraft."

ADVERTISMENT

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be their kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it causes nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Deane's Pills, a reliable diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Deane's gives happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney troubles flush out the poison waste from your blood. Get Deane's Pills.

Switchboard to Serve 600 New Phones Arrives at Office

35 Technicians
To Take 3 Months
For Installation

"The second story men" who entered the Broadway side of the Telephone Central office building the other day had been long awaited and were eagerly welcomed. They were movers, who with block and tackle, hoisted into the building the four heavy sections of switchboard that will provide telephone service for 600 Kingston people who are waiting for it.

The sections, which the operators who will work at them call "positions" were expected last July, but unforeseen manufacturing difficulties delayed them until now, to the keen disappointment of C. E. Burnett, Telephone Company Manager. In anticipation of the day when he could clean up his "field orders", he moved the business office into its present quarters in the Y.W.C.A. building to make room for an enlarged central office in the Telephone building, and had sent a new directory off to the printers with numbers for people whose service could be filled when a new switchboard would begin operation.

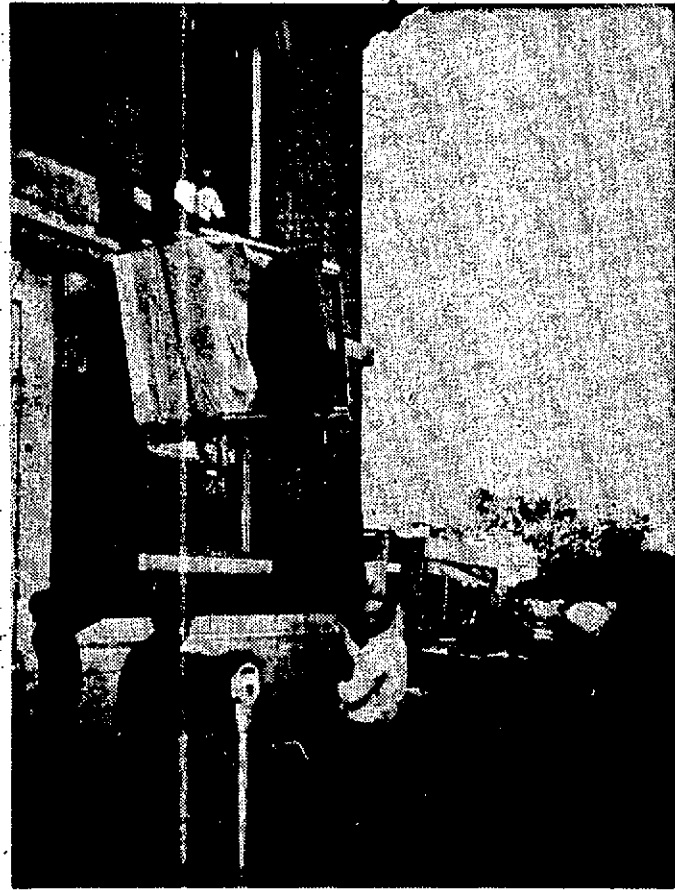

Because of the unexpected delay, the new Kingston directory has numbers in it for people who will not have service until the complex task of installing new switchboard is completed.

"It will take all the men who can be crowded into the working space, about 35 of them, three months at least to do the job", he said, pointing out that no one had ever been able to invent a machine capable of substituting for the handwork of skilled technicians in either the manufacture or installation of intricate central office equipment.

17 Miles of Cable

The new positions will have to be interconnected with the other switchboard positions in the office as well as the cables leading to customer's telephones. More than 130,000 feet of switchboard cable, which if spliced into one length would extend nearly 17 miles, must be woven into place. In the shurter places in which they are used, they contain a total of more than 70,000 lengths of wire, and more than 152,000 hand soldered connections will have to be made before operators will be able to handle calls over the new positions.

The four sections being added

Four heavy sections of switchboard that will provide a telephone service for 600 Kingston people, who have been waiting for it, was recently hoisted into the Telephone Central Office here.

In the above pictures workmen are shown hoisting the switchboards into the building while others are making preparations for their installation.

Besides these new four positions that are expected to catch up on current demands, more positions will be added during 1948 to be provided for future growth, it was announced. (Lippard Photos) will bring the total number of local call positions in the Kingston office to 31.

"We have always planned to add to our central offices and outside cables in advance of the demand," Mr. Burnett said, "but the war brought a big increase in the demand for telephones, and at the same time stopped the manufacture of equipment except for military needs and war industries. In Kingston when the war ended, we had nearly 700 people waiting for telephone service we couldn't furnish them. Some were waiting because we did not have enough outside cable and wire, and more because we couldn't get the telephones themselves.

Heaviest Demand

"Since then, thanks to the manufacturers who have broken all production records in spite of shortages of materials, we have added nearly 2,300 telephones here.

"There are 12,000 telephones in the Kingston exchange now, but because the demand for telephones continues to be the heaviest in our history, we still have nearly as many people on our waiting list as when the war ended, and the central office is loaded to capacity.

"Additional switchboard positions were ordered soon after VJ day, but telephone offices all over the country were crying for more equipment, and because of the intricate handwork required its manufacture is a time-consuming process.

Besides the four positions that are expected to catch up on current demands, more positions will be added during 1948 to be provided for future growth.

O. K. Did It With Song

Philadelphia, Oct. 2 (AP)—A group of end-of-the-season vacationers sat glumly in their seats as they rode back to Philadelphia from Ocean City, N. J., in a bus. The driver studied their expressions for a few miles and then called back over his shoulder: "Aw, come on back there. Let's be happy. Let's sing." He started singing and one by one his passengers joined in. There were no glum expressions in evidence as the bus pulled into the Philadelphia terminal yesterday. The bus driver's name: O. K. Elbersson.

Maritime table setting for a shore dinner at home

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

For a gala dinner, when meat prices are out of sight, give a shore dinner at home.

Use aquamarine Irish linen but-fet strips, a maritime centerpiece made of rock salt, two lighthouse candlesticks, and bleached drift-wood.

Oysters Casino

Allow 6 large oysters for each portion. When the oysters are opened; remove the flat top shell; keep the oysters in the deep lower shell. Place the shells in a shallow pan which has been half filled with a layer of rock salt. (The salt holds the oysters steady while cooking.)

Season each with salt and pepper, then sprinkle with 1 tablespoon of a mixture of finely chopped green pepper, celery and pimiento.

Broil under a moderate flame for 10 minutes. Keep the oysters moist by basting with butter or fortified margarine during broiling. Top each with a piece of minced, fried bacon.

Serve at once in shells. Garnish center of plate with watercress and a wedge of lemon.

Old-Fashioned Apple Pie
Plain or cheese pastry for a two-crust 9-inch pie, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 6 cups sliced apples (6 to 8 medium-sized), 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine.

Divide pastry in half. Shape dough in a ball and roll on a floured board or pastry cloth to 1/2-inch thickness. Fold in half and arrange in pie plate. Unfold, fit into pie plate and trim edges. Roll out remaining dough; make slits or design with the back of a knife or dicker. Combine sugar, spices and salt. Place alternate layers of apples and sugar mixture in lower crust.

Dot with butter or margarine, cut in small pieces. Place on top crust; trim, seal and flute edges. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 40 minutes.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Prune juice or stewed prunes, ready-to-eat whole grain cereal, toasted muffins, butter or fortified margarine, jam, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Spanish omelet, buttered whole wheat toast, fresh fruit cup, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Oysters Casino, baked halibut steak with parsley-margarine sauce, herb tomatoes, cole slaw with cooked dressing, rolls, butter or fortified margarine, old-fashioned apple pie, coffee, milk.

Fable Is Proved

Hastings, Nebr., Oct. 2 (AP)—A half-grown coyote which devoured six chickens in C. A. Nelson's chicken yard here discovered the wisdom of Aesop's fables—but too late. Crawling through an opening left for Nelson's bantam rooster, the predator feasted on six hens—then found the hole through which it had entered too small for escape. A policeman's gun ended the career of the trapped animal the next morning.

Treat Your Home To A Colonial Rag Rug

In the days before the American revolution, many homes were crude, floors were bare and cold. And from that humble beginning, when necessity ruled, came the Colonial rag rug we use and love today.

Some of our floors are cold enough on a winter's morning and what could be more reassuring to a pair of cold feet searching for slippers than the warmth of a bedside rug?

You don't have to go to an antique shop for yours. Make it yourself right at home. The average size is 21 1/2 inches by 32 inches plus a 2-inch fringe at each end. The process used is the basket weave, an easy under-over weave that even a child can master.

Your colors should be a combination of blending daisies and lights such as soft powder blue, dark blue, figured navy and white. You can use old sheeting or other discarded material and dye it the colors you have chosen.

How to make the loom is pictured in our Reader Service booklet No. 94, with complete weaving instructions for an authentic Colonial pattern. Also, instruction for hooked, crocheted, knotted, braided, and tufted rugs.

HAROLD C. OSTERHOUDT

Harold C. Osterhoudt, currently serving the 12th Ward in the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, is the Republican candidate for re-election this fall.

His appointment in 1945 to the vital Postwar Planning Committee in the board bespeaks the high regard in which his judgment is held, and indicates that when an important post is to be filled, Mr. Osterhoudt is in the forefront for consideration.

Interest in civic affairs plays a large part in the life of Candidate Osterhoudt. He has served as vice president of Wiltwyck Hose and has earned a certificate as an exempt fireman.

Mr. Osterhoudt was chosen to direct the activities of the Ulster County Gun Club, having been honored with the office of president, and he has a keen interest in the Ulster County Pheasant Club, especially in regard to its conservation activities.

Fraternally he is a member of Masonic Lodge, 10, and belongs to the Masonic Club.

As a member of the Fair Street Reformed Church, he is serving on the Greater Consistory, and is enrolled in the Men's Club. Mr. Osterhoudt served for three years as a deacon of the church.

For many years Mr. Osterhoudt was associated with his father, Peter C. Osterhoudt, a carpenter contractor who conducted a successful business for 50 years. He was born on Clinton avenue, and is personally acquainted with most of the people who live in his ward and honored him with the supervisors'hip before.

Supervisor Osterhoudt is known as a man who interests himself in the desires of his constituents as regards good, stable government and carries them out faithfully in voting on procedures and policies in the Board of Supervisors.

This Woman Was Once Dead

Looking the picture of health, Mrs. Martha Chorch, 58, of Akron, Ohio, finds pleasure in sweeping her stoop. But she was once dead. While undergoing abdominal surgery in an Akron hospital, her heart stopped beating. It was still for two minutes, and the surgeon was about to give up the fight for her life. But in a desperate attempt, he made a swift incision, laid bare the heart, lifted it out and massaged it in his hand. Within 30 seconds, it began to beat feebly. He replaced it, and, 11 days later, Mrs. Chorch left the hospital after one of the most amazing recoveries in medical history.

How America Butters Its Bread

The chart shows the 1947 trends in production and average retail price of butter and margarine. August and September figures are estimates. Note how the butter price curve is almost identical with the curve for margarine production—as butter increases in cost, the demand for margarine increases, with corresponding decrease in demand for butter. Overell Murder Case Verdict Is Expected Friday

Santa Ana, Calif., Oct. 2 (AP)—Out of the welter of words that has engulfed the Overell yacht blast murder trial for 19 weeks a jury probably will take the case tomorrow for a decision.

Six men and six women will decide whether 18-year-old Louise Overell and her husky lover, George (Bud) Gollum, murdered her parents as the state alleges by bludgeoning them and then dynamiting their yacht last March 15. Gollum's counsel, S. B. Kaufman, opened the last of the defense arguments today and was expected to finish this afternoon. Prosecutor Eugene Williams was prepared to wind up the longest murder trial on record with a plea to the jury for the death sentence for the 21-year-old Gollum and life imprisonment for his sweetheart.

Victoria Statue Will Be Removed in Dublin

Dublin, Oct. 2 (UP)—One of Eire's most unpopular statues, that of Queen Victoria which flanks the Dail Building at Leinster House, soon will be removed to make way for a parking space.

The statue has been the center of heated controversy ever since the Irish Parliament first began deliberations on the reorganization of the approaches to the Dail Building has sealed its fate and it will be taken away to make room for the deputies' automobiles.

The government's problem is what to do with the statue. Some sources believe it may be returned to Britain.

Musician's Ensemble Gives Concerts At Hospitals

Programs of music were presented at the Benedictine Hospital September 25 and September 28 by an ensemble under the leadership of Clementine Nessel. The concerts were part of an extensive program sponsored by the Musician's Union and made possible by the Record and Transcription Fund.

The ensemble of Mrs. Nessel according; Jules Teller, violin; Forrest Goodenough, flute; Harry Maisenhelder, flute; Ole Christensen, clarinet and Henry Terpening, string bass; will play at Kingston Hospital, Sunday, from 2 to 4 p. m. A previous concert at this hospital was given September 21. The program at the Benedictine Hospital included Claire de Lune by Debussy; two nocturnes by Chopin; Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring, by Bach; excerpts from Rachmaninoff's Second Piano Concerto, and several lighter selections from musical shows by Victor Herbert and Cole Porter.

In addition to playing as a group, the individual artists responded as soloists to numerous requests.

Letter of Thanks. Paul A. Zucca, chairman of the Record and Transcription Fund Committee, has received the following letter from Sister M. Berenice, superintendent of Benedictine Hospital, thanking the local musicians for the concert.

"My Dear Mr. Zucca: "The Board of Managers of the Benedictine Hospital acknowledge with sincere thanks the two beautiful programs of selected music arranged and given by the Musical Ensemble under the direction of Mrs. Clementine Nessel of the Record and Transcription Fund Committee of Kingston, for the benefit of the patients in the Benedictine Hospital.

The first concert was given Thursday, September 25, from 2 to 4 p. m. and the second on Sunday, September 28, from 2 to 4 p. m. Since the above hours were visiting hours, the music was enjoyed by their relatives and friends and the entire personnel of the hospital. All thoroughly enjoyed the musical treat and are grateful for this fine gesture on the part of the members of the Recording and Transcription Fund Committee.

Sincerely yours,
SISTER M. BERENICE,
Superintendent.

EVENING CLOTHES HOPED FOR

The following problem does not lend itself to a conventional answer: "We are soon to have a house guest for whom we want to give a large buffet supper, inviting a cross-section of our friends. I am wondering what type of invitation is best since two of the groups usually wear dinner clothes to our parties, while those in the other always go to parties in informal day clothes. We would like to have everyone dress but we don't want anyone to say away because he or she doesn't want to. Therefore, what kind of invitation could indicate but not demand formal dress?"

Invitations in the formal third person of course, would mean that those who don't want to dress would have to stay away. But if you send out your visiting card with "To meet Mrs. Houseguest," across the top of it and below in abbreviation "November 14, buffet supper, 7 o'clock" and "R.S.V.P." below that, those who are accustomed to dressing in the evening will come dressed properly. To those who never dress in the evening and always have come to your house in day clothes, you might write across the bottom of their cards, "Evening clothes hoped for—but not expected."

Must Be For Charity

Dear Mrs. Post: Is a "silver tea" in order only when given by a club or organization which is taking this money for raising money for some charity? Would it be in questionable taste, in other words, for a private hostess to give a silver tea? The purpose is also for charity, but one in which her friends are not especially interested.

Answer: Certainly, if she states the purpose.

Calling on Governor

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I should like to call on our governor and his wife. Is it correct to make a "first call" with one's husband? Should my husband present our double card?

Answer: Certainly you go together and leave your double card, or one of yours and two of your husband's. You rather than your husband should hand the cards to whoever is on duty. In this country, as a private individual he pays visits with you rather you with him.

Mrs. Post has written a new leaflet, E-3, entitled, "The Clothes of the Bridal Party." This gives correct dress for the bride and groom and all the attendants at a formal or informal wedding. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her in care of the Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Prayers Answered With $2,000 for College Debt

Oklahoma City, Oct. 2 (AP)—A slip-up in the date of a benevolent collection left the Southwest Pentecostal Holiness College face-to-face with a $10,000 loan payment—and only $7,000 on hand.

The Rev. Mr. R. O. Corvin went calling and came back with $1,000. Then he talked it over with the students, and they contributed $138—all they had.

That left a deficit of still nearly $2,000, and the Rev. Mr. Corvin called for prayers.

They were interrupted by a long-distance telephone call. A friend of the church, who withheld his name, said a check for $2,000 was in the mail.

Prayers resumed on a note of thanksgiving.

High Taxes in Jersey

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 2 (AP)—Taxes on New Jersey farm lands rose approximately seven per cent last year to place the property owners among the highest payers of farm real estate levies in the nation, the State Department of Agriculture reported today.

Simpson's Opponent Has 48 Wins in 50 Bouts, Hard Puncher

Beecher and Rest of N. Y. Boxers Tops, Says Toner

Voicing his sentiments regarding B'nai B'rith boxing bouts at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, Marty Spiegel, head usher, said, "Let's know more about the records of the guys who are going to scrap."

The Kingston Chemical Sales Company official addressed his remarks to Ben M. Becker, director of bouts, who prides himself in bringing in "the best boxers from all over the country for Kingston."

In arranging the card for Thursday night, October 9th, Becker insisted on handlers furnishing advance information for the fans on their ring proteges.

Jack Toner, veteran trainer and manager from New York, obligingly offered the "low down" on his metropolitan stable, indicating that boxers who oppose his boys will have to fight or else.

Johnny Beecher, Cleveland's national light-heavyweight champion, was a runner-up in the Cincinnati, O. Golden Gloves, and has won 48 out of 50 scraps, many by knockouts, according to Toner.

Undeclared in N. Y. "Becher has never been defeated in a New York city ring, and he does a lot of battling around the metropolis," Toner advised. "He's a tall boy, long arms, and packs a mean wallop. He's one of the best left-hookers I've seen in a long time."

When a sports writer pressed Toner regarding the rest of his stable, he came back with, "What do you think I'm handling, stumblers? All my fighters can fight. If they can't I've no time for them. We throw them out of the gym."

After cooling off, the natty dresser, who has been directing the careers of ring athletes for more than 20 years, continued:

Marine Champion
"Take Bunny White, the kid who's matched with Freddy O'Neal of Schenectady. He won his division's lightweight championship as a marine corps battler in China. This boy can scrap. O'Neal will have plenty of trouble with him. He's the white hope of the amateur 135-pounders."

O'Neal, who keeps busy in upstate rings, has been defeated only once, according to Mike Vigliucci of Albany. Freddie scored a knockout on the last card.

Johnny Leslie, another Toner protegee, has been a consistent winner as a welterweight, having gone through a year and a half of campaigning with few losses, the metropolitan coach advised.

Leslie is paired off with Albany's Johnny Gibson, who boasts of 26 victories in 27 of his last fights.

Just Missed Title
Jackie Cormack, New York's fighting Irish lightweight, was a finalist in the Golden Gloves tournament held on Long Island and missed a title by a "hair" Toner said. He will slug it out with Harold Morton of Albany on October 9 in one of the five rounders.

Besides the bouts mentioned, there will be three three-round preliminaries, the first starting at 9 o'clock. Becker promises they'll feature all-action scrapers.

With the card looking like one of the best on paper, Marty Spiegel's ushers probably will be busy seating patrons next Thursday, and, according to E. M. Becker, he'll have to get out his shiny old orchestra horn to do any more "trumpeting."

World Series Notes

(By Joe Reichler)

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—They say Hank Greenberg has played his last game for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

A teammate of Hank's, who wishes to remain unidentified, disclosed that Hank had requested his release.

"He still wants to play in the majors," the player said, "but with a New York club. He thinks he has another good year of baseball left in him. Hank was bothered by a bad elbow this year. He intends to have it operated upon this winter, only if he is assured that he will be able to play with a club of his own choosing."

Doesn't Blame Reiser
Al Simmons, former great outfielder of the Philadelphia Athletics and now a coach of the team, thinks that Pete Reiser, who had a bad day at Yankee Stadium yesterday, is being criticized too severely for misplaying several drives off in the centerfield sector.

"Don't be too critical of Reiser's play. That triple deck at the stadium, with the smoke rolling out makes you lose the ball as it comes down out of the bright sun into the haze and the shadow," he said. "It is especially tough for fellows playing there the first time. It took me a long time to master the technique of judging fly balls there. You have to be used to it."

May Trade Boudreau
Bill Veck of Cleveland, here for the series, may complete a post-season deal that would make his last winter's number one trade involving Joe Gordon and Al Reynolds small potatoes by comparison. The grapevine has it that Manager Lou Boudreau may be traded to the St. Louis Browns for shortstop Vern Stephens of the Browns.

The talk around is that Veck offered Boudreau a one-year contract with a $15,000 raise at the close of the season to continue as manager. Boudreau countered with a request for a three-year contract. The conference ended with Veck coming to the series and Boudreau hurrying to his Harvey, Ill., home.

Teddy Williams, Boston's great slugger, who couldn't buy a base hit in the 1946 World Series, spent most of last night trying to buy a ticket for today's game at Ebbets Field. You'd think a guy who was handed so many free passes as Ted was this past season, would have no trouble wrangling one for the series.

Incidentally, Williams made a remark that was a classic when informed that Joe McCarthy had been signed to manage the Red Sox. "That's swell. McCarthy's no rookie. He's been up before."

The signing of McCarthy, to manage the Boston Red Sox, and the possibility of Billy Meyer taking over the reins of the Pittsburgh Pirates, puts two former Yankees chatters in the spotlight. Other former members of the Yankees or their chains managing in the majors today include John M. Neum with the Cincinnati Reds, Ben Chapman with the Philadelphia Phils and Muddy Ruel with the St. Louis Browns.

BOBO NEWSOM JOE HATTEN

Bobo Newsom, the man with a mission, was Bucky Harris' logical choice to hurl the third game of the series today at Ebbets Field. Bobo, a former Dodger finger, says "I am to put the front on Squire Ricker's glasses." Joe Hatten, with a 17 and eight record for the 1947 campaign, was expected to take the hill for the Brooks.

Po'keepsie Indians to Play Scotia at Home on Sunday

Poughkeepsie — Flushed with two shutout victories in the Eastern Football League, the hard-charging Poughkeepsie Indians will tackle Scotia Packers at Riverview field here Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Tribe, boasting a rough, tough forward wall and a speedy backfield, set up, blanked the Hudson Pros, 21 to 0, and the Schenectady Bears, 9 to 0, in two starts to date. Play of the burly line was paramount in both tilts, especially against the Bear eleven, rated one of the best defensive units ever to represent the upstate city on the gridiron. Bill Toles, former Howard University star, and Carl Beck, rugged Syracuse gridders, played 60 minutes of slam-bank ball against the Bruins.

Tommy Maine, Kingston's big fullback, continues to spark the backfield with Jackie Rizzo, also from the Colonial City, and Eddie Santopadre and Johnny Cocco, local products, completing the starting lineup. Maines hits the line while Rizzo skirts the ends. Cocco has chipped in with some fine defensive play while Santopadre has been outstanding at the T-slot.

The Packers, this week's foe, were undefeated for three seasons prior to the war. They boast a big line, anchored by a 257-pound tackle. The team is loaded with former collegiate and high school players and is counted on to give the Redskins a hard battle all the way. Fans expect Poughkeepsie's unscathed record to be shattered in short order.

Poughkeepsie's warriors came through the Bear brawl in good condition and will be in top shape for the invasion. A crowd of more than 3,000 fans is expected to pack the new ball park for the action.

Shotton Expected to Send Joe Hatten Against Newsom

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Only a miracle can save the Brooklyn Dodgers after losing the first two games of the 1947 World Series and that miracle probably isn't spelled Joe Hatten.

Failures with Ralph Branca and Vic Lombardi in the opening games, resulting in frequent calls on the Dodger bullpen, have scraped the bottom of the thin 10-man staff as the series shifts to Ebbets Field for three days, or less.

Bagatelles:

The World Series opener at Larry MacPhail's glorified, sardine can left much to be desired from an academic standpoint, unless you were a diehard Yankee rooter, and the best and saddest, show seemed to be the $4 standing room chumps who laid it on the line to watch their favorites through somebody's hat band, between a pair of elbows or over someone's dandruff flaked shoulder. . . . And yet the colonel rants about the World Series being a $10 show. . . . The $120 fan during the regular season gets kicked squarely in the teeth when World Series time rolls around. . . . The front boxes and choice reserved locations swarm with mink, brass and erie looking characters, fugitives from Park avenue penthouses, the good old sunlight, a bunch of somebodies who think a squeeze play is something you try after the first two cocktails. . . . The World Series never has been and never will be the "little man's" show.

Of Men and Mice:

There was much ado about bringing the Dodgers back at the Monday night convulse of baseball minded men. . . . Everyone allowed as how the Dodgers were an asset to the community and they should come back. . . . They spoke of resolutions and panned the Dodger front office for failure to promote the team properly. . . . But, nobody had the courage to come face to face with the real stickler: Why didn't the baseball fans of Kingston, who supported the City Baseball League with the greatest attendance in history, flock through the stadium turnstiles. . . . Could it be that they just didn't want that type of baseball? . . . Were they uneducated to organized baseball? . . . Branch Rickey wants those answers and will settle for nothing less. . . . Granted that his son, Branch Jr., had stated earlier that the development of players was the primary objective of a farm club and that the club could lose up to $10,000 in the first season, Mr. Rickey could not forget the cold facts that only 31,254 persons in Kingston attended the games. . . . The bulk of the attendance consisted of a small group of some 600 or 700 fans who made steady pilgrimages to the uptown ball orchards. . . . And for a championship ball club!

The gentlemen spoke of advertising and promotion and, although some of them didn't come out and say so in just so many words, they gave the impression that the sports writers reneged on the Dodgers during the season. . . . That was pure hogwash. . . . The Dodgers got plenty of space, more than any other sports organization in the city's history. . . . Early in the season, when the Dodger godfathers were groping around for a "sardine" on which to pin the failure of the Dodgers, it was fashionable to single out the Kingston Athletic Association. . . . That, too, was sheer fabrication. . . . We would be honored to feel that we are president of a group that has the power of life and death over a sports movement. . . . Gentlemen, it just isn't so. . . . Branch Rickey is waiting for the answers and they had better be forthcoming. . . . Maybe, as we told the gathering, the city is slightly overrated as a sports town. . . . Sports seem to run in cycles here. . . . More on that later, but it could be that the minor league club was installed at the tail end of the first great baseball cycle in Kingston since the collapse of the legendary Colonials.

More Anent the Series:

The Yankee Stadium press box and temporary facilities were minuscule. . . . 500 writers, editors and phonics trying to find seats in a space with 400 accommodations. . . . Jimmy Fowers was in the front row as big as life. . . . He wore a light tan raincoat and brown hat. . . . A few feet away was Al Cirillo, the News bowling editor, trying to look like a baseball writer. . . . He was doing a poor job. . . . Babe Ruth took over, as usual. . . . The photos gave Leo Durocher and Laraine Day considerable attention. . . . Happy Chandler, Lou's big pal, Branca, for all his size and skill, is extremely shy. . . . Furillo had two gorgeous chances to flash his fielding prowess and didn't fail. . . . The Dodgers looked like the scrappier club and kept up their hustle all the way. . . . We looked high and low for Kingston faces. . . . Didn't see any.

MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: As one sardine said to the other in the can, move over, what do you think this is, Yankee Stadium?

Williamson Rates Michigan No.1 Team in the Country

Michigan, colossus of the Big Nine, is rated the top college football of the country after the first week of play, according to the Williamson Scientific Football Ratings.

Louisiana State ranks second, followed by Georgia Tech, Army, Texas University, UCLA, Rice, Tulane, California and North Carolina. For the last week-end, the Williamson System picked 166 winners and had 5 ties in 202 games for a percentage of 84.3. For the season, Williamson has selected 311 winners in 386 games for an overall figure of 86.5. Percentages are figures without tie.

The lid exploded off the 1947 collegiate football season last week, sending up with it a fine spray of bewildered experts, forecasters, odds-makers and others, right down to the man on the street with a dollar to bet on his favorite team.

The System stood alone in advancing nationally in advances, the four-star special of the week: Vanderbilt 3, Northwestern 0.

Also relatively alone, the System came up with the following accuracies: Colorado A.M. 23, Drake 19; Franklin 19, Indiana Central 13; Georgia Tech 27, Tennessee 0; VPI 20, Furman 6; and Knox 13, Duquesne 6.

The System nominated Henry Franks of Tulane, "Coach of the Week" with honors to his line coach, Henry "Frank" Crisp for getting the Grizzlies hot enough and high enough to lick Alabama, 21-20, in what promises to be one of the biggest upsets of the season. (An Alabama spokesman said it was the first time in history a Crimson Tide team ever lost by an extra point).

Grimm Will Stay As Chicago Pilot

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—An old hand will lead the Chicago Cubs' "Youth Movement" next year and right through 1952.

Five-Year Contract

And the veteran at the wheel will be Charlie Grimm again. Putting a dead stop to season-long rumors that their 49-year-old manager was headed for Cleveland, the Cubs gave Banjo Charlie a solid vote of confidence in the form of a five-year contract—a long term agreement unprecedented in the history of the Chicago National League team.

The popular pilot hasn't yet signed the necessary papers but that formality will be taken care of when Grimm, Cubs General Manager James Gallagher and Club President Phil Wrigley get together in Chicago. Grimm beamed and said he was "happy about the whole thing." "I will try to be a good manager and I will continue to be Charlie Grimm," the smiling Cub chieftain added.

Forgotten and forgiven was the Cubs' sixth-place finish in the past campaign. The five-year pact apparently was the board of strategy's way of telling Charlie it wasn't his fault.

The Cubs of '47 was virtually the same crew which took fourth place in '46 and won the pennant in '45 under Grimm. But things will be different next year.

Already four standbys of the past—Stan Hack, Claude Passeau, Bill Lee and Billy Jurges—have been crossed off the playing list along with a number of minor figures.

To fill the gaps, a horde of eager youngsters will be brought up to the spring training camp. All Jobs Open

With five years to work on, Grimm undoubtedly will throw every job open when the squad gathers once again at the Catalina Island conditioning camp.

The '48 campaign will be Grimm's 12th full or part time season as manager of the Cubs. Grimm, himself, happily furnished the information that he is the first Cub manager ever to be given more than a one-year contract.

Cornell Ends Drills

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Cornell University's football drills last night ended their heavy drilling for the game at Yale Saturday. The coaching staff paid particular attention to Lynn Dorset, 165-pound quarterback from Miami, Fla. Dorset is expected to play at Yale, although the regular signal caller, Bob Dean of Bloomington, Ind., and his first line replacement, Norm Dawson of Oak Park, Ill., are in shape.

Second Track Fatality

Lackawanna, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—The fatalities at Buffalo Raceway, Hamburg, Pa., numbered two for the season today following the death of Cyrus Stieglman, 55-year-old, harness race driver from Carlisle, Pa. Stieglman died yesterday as a result of a skull fracture suffered during a four-horse pile-up on Friday night's eighth race. On Monday, John Clark of Rochester, 78-year-old horse handler, died of injuries received Sept. 6 when he was thrown from a sulky.

German Girl Is Found In Box Bound for New York

Frankfurt, Germany, Oct. 2 (AP)—A blonde German girl, put in a box for a dramatic stowaway flight to New York, was found sheveled but alive today at the Rhein-Main Airport.

Pilots said the flight would have meant "certain death" for the girl because the box would have been stored in an unheated compartment where temperatures high above the Atlantic would have been below zero.

The girl gave the name of Doris von Knobloch, 21.

Airport employees who became suspicious and pried open the box found her wearing only a skirt and underclothing. She hastily donned a sweater, stepped out and appeared a bit dazed but non-chalant.

William Waring of New York, operations representative for American Overseas Airlines, happened to sit on the box and noticed it was warmer than others in the warehouse. German employees told him they thought they had seen the cover move during the night.

but were unable to believe their eyes.

Army officials took custody of the girl.

An American soldier delivered the box yesterday to the airport, where it remained overnight in a warehouse. The soldier said he would return today to pay for the freight.

Airport attaches said the box was addressed to "Mr. Rolph Berndt, 539 W. 48th street, New York city," and that the girl apparently intended to join a former acquaintance in New York. They said the soldier apparently had no part in her future plans and had delivered the box only as a favor.

Persons seeing the box expressed amazement that the girl could fit into such a small space. The box measured 30 inches long, 21 inches wide and 24 inches high. The girl was in a sitting position, cramped over. She had room for some tea and slices of dark German bread.

The box appeared to have been screwed shut from the outside, but closer examination disclosed that the screws penetrated loose holes not been performed pending the soldier's return with the shipping fee.

Airport officials said the girl had no chance of reaching New York without discovery at customs inspection. The declaration contents and other shipping formalities had not been performed pending the soldier's return with the shipping fee.

Meyer to Manage Pittsburgh Pirates; Succeeds Herman

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Bill Meyer, who piloted Kansas City to the American Association pennant this year, was named manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates today, succeeding the resigned Billy Herman.

At the same time General Manager Roy Hamey of the Pirates announced that Hank Greenberg, erstwhile home run slugger of the club, had been given his unconditional release at the player's request.

Hamey, who was general manager of the Kansas City club when Meyer managed there in 1938 through 1941, said that the contract Meyer signed was for two years at the highest salary ever given a Pirate boss.

Professor Squelches Storm Against 'Comics'

Palo Alto, Calif., Oct. 2 (AP)—Parents and teachers who helped finance an investigation of comic book reading were told today that the best of such books well might be imitated in the schools.

At worst, comic books are not nearly harmful enough to merit banishment from the home, Dr. Lawrence G. Thomas of the Stanford University School of Education reported.

Conclusions from three surveys, financed in part by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, made these points:

1. Comic books are widely read but are not a major time-consuming recreational activity.

2. Students like animal cartoon, fun and humor books best; few read those containing violence, sex, horror or sadism.

3. Boys read more comic books than girls.

The comic book technique was recommended for helping along poor readers in school.

Hospital Official Says Food Cost Is To Show in Illness

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Edward M. Bernecker, commissioner of Hospitals, says that "only an immediate check of the soaring food costs" can prevent an increase of several thousand in the population of the city's crowded hospitals before the end of the year.
 This increase, Bernecker said in a report to Mayor William O'Dwyer, would "reflect a definite increase in the rate of illness in a population weakened by malnutrition."
 The hospital report was one of five dealing with food costs which the mayor received late yesterday. Commissioner of Welfare Edward B. Rhatigan reported that costs of food needed by relief families increased 32 per cent over June, 1946.
 Andrew G. Clausen, Jr., president of the Board of Education, said school lunches served 225,000 students now cost $11,000 a day.

Bikini Natives Seen as Frustrated, Report Declares

Pearl Harbor, Oct. 2 (AP)—The 167 natives who left their homes 18 months ago so Bikini lagoon could be used for the atomic bomb tests are "a defeated, frustrated, poverty-stricken people."
 This was made known in a report handed to the navy's military government recently, and so the navy is providing them with a new and better island home.
 The report was from Dr. Howard G. McMillan, agricultural specialist of the United States Commercial Company, who found that the island of Rongerik, their second home, is inadequate.
 The navy plans to move the natives from Rongerik to Ujelang, 290 miles southwest of Bikini, which MacMillan reported "should prove adequate for the needs of

Jacksonville Expects Another Huge Tide
 Jacksonville Beach, Fla., Oct. 2 (AP)—Beach front residents prepared for another high tide today and hoped the strong winds and heavy surf which have battered the coast line since last week-end would abate by nightfall without doing further damage.
 A strong northeaster pushed the waves back up the sands last night but property owners, city employees and coast guardsmen were able to hold their own in a sandbag battle with the swirling water.
 The same situation prevailed at Neptune and Atlantic Beaches to the north. Damage already has been estimated at $1,000,000 to the seawall and $50,000 to personal property.
